

Guide Document: Designation of JADE Pioneers

Introduction

The Jamaican Association for Debating and Empowerment (JADE) Limited is committed to fostering a culture of engagement and excellence among its volunteers. To support this mission, JADE introduces three distinct levels of designations for individuals who wish to contribute to our cause: JADE Junior Pioneers, JADE Senior Pioneers, and JADE Elite Pioneers. This guide outlines the criteria and responsibilities associated with each designation.

Conduct and Participation

- Inactivity: Failure to participate or support JADE for a period of three consecutive months may result in the rescindment of their designation.
- Conduct: All pioneers are required to maintain appropriate conduct. Any behavior deemed inappropriate or contrary to JADE's values may result in the rescindment of their designation.

Structure and Engagement

- Organizational Structure: JADE Pioneers will not be an organized group with designated leadership roles. Instead, they will serve as a pool of resources from which JADE officers may draw as needed.
- Opportunities for Development: Pioneers are encouraged to engage in JADE's workshops, competitions, and events to support their own development and enhance their skills.

Conclusion

The JADE Pioneer designations recognize and reward individuals for their dedication and contributions to the Jamaican Association for Debating and Empowerment. By adhering to the criteria and responsibilities outlined in this guide, pioneers can support JADE's mission while also advancing their personal and professional growth.
